ABOUT

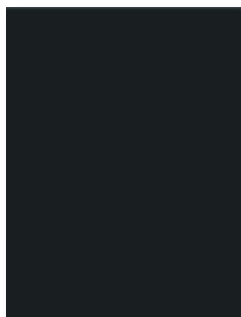

Victoria A. Vetere, PhD, HC is a life coach, author, speaker, radio show host, consultant, and enlightenment instigator. Her intention is to facilitate life enhancement, both personal and professional. She is creative, innovative, passionate, humorous, and curious. A session with her is interactive, inspiring, and unique. Expect the unexpected. And enjoy the results.

Victoria works with individuals, couples, solopreneurs, small businesses, and management teams. Her guiding principles are authenticity and alignment. And her two favorite questions are, "Who are you?" and "What are you here for?" Working with her is like hitting "Refresh."

Victoria is available for private sessions, business consultations, training facilitations, speaking engagements, radio show guest appearances, and other enlightenment invitations.

Stay tuned...

Offering the best of the East & the West, Victoria blends classic training in Western behavioral science, studies in Eastern healing arts, and cutting edge quantum science. This combination of knowledge and expertise is both powerful and practical. Victoria's work displays an exquisite balance of intuitive wisdom and experiential knowledge to very effectively identify core issues and facilitate positive changes. And she does all this with a gentle sense of humor, inviting joy and enthusiasm in each interaction.

Her newly published book is Enlightenment Appetizers: A Taste of Enlightenment In Everyday Life. In both her book and coaching with her clients, Victoria helps us to better understand how life really works. Whether the focus is our personal or our professional world, she teaches us to create the life we really want, rather than reacting to the one we already have. Breaking new ground is exciting. And that's what we are here to do.
